State Representative Michael Caron, R-44th District, Killingly, Plainfield, and Sterling, did not miss a single vote during the recently completed 2007 legislative session in Hartford, according to statistics provided by the House Clerk's Office.

Representative Caron was present and voting for all 420 roll call votes taken on the state House floor during 2007. He was one of only 14 of Connecticut's 151 state representatives who had perfect records for floor votes during the session, according to the House Clerk's Office.

Both Caron and fellow eastern Connecticut Republican legislator Mike Alberts, R-Woodstock, were among the seven percent of state House members to not miss a single 2007 vote.
